

After Tippecanoe Symposium

is presented by:

Michigan Commission on the Commemoration of the Bicentennial of the War of 1812.

www.michigan.gov/war1812

in cooperation with

Detroit Historical Society

www.detroithistorical.org

Historical Society of Michigan

www.hsmichigan.org

Northern Michigan University

History Department

webb.nmu.edu/Departments/History/

Louisa St. Clair Chapter

Daughters of the American Revolution

www.louisa.michdar.net

Mackinac Historic State Parks

www.mackinacparks.com

Michigan Council for History Education

www.michiganhistoryed.org

Michigan Humanities Council

www.michiganhumanities.org

With support from

Michigan State University Press

www.msupress.msu.edu

and

Wayne State University Press

www.wsupress.wayne.edu

Questions?

Dr. Jim McConnell

Email: jam1776@sbcglobal.net

For more information, please visit

www.michigan.gov/war1812

Michigan Commission on the Commemoration of the Bicentennial of the War of 1812 logo designed by Rebecca Westerdale.

After Tippecanoe

The Old Northwest in the War of 1812

The Battle of Tippecanoe
Library of Congress

A Symposium on the Significance of the War of 1812

Tuesday, November 8, 2011

8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Detroit Historical Museum

5401 Woodward Avenue

Detroit, MI 48202

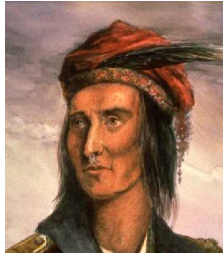

The "After Tippecanoe" Symposium will describe the War of 1812's key battles and events in the Old Northwest following the Battle of Tippecanoe on November 7, 1811.

The Battle of Tippecanoe, which took place outside Prophetstown in present-day Indiana at the confluence of the Tippecanoe and Wabash Rivers, was fought on November 7, 1811 between United States forces led by Governor William Henry Harrison of the Indiana Territory and forces of Tecumseh's growing American Indian Confederation led by his younger brother Tenskwatawa. In addition to serving as an important political and symbolic victory for the United States, the Tippecanoe defeat dealt a devastating blow to Tecumseh's Confederacy, which never regained its former strength. Public opinion in the United States blamed the Native American uprising on British interference. This suspicion served as a catalyst to the War of 1812, which began only six months later.

The Michigan Commission for the Commemoration of the Bicentennial of the War of 1812 is charged with encouraging, planning, and developing activities, events, programs, observances and services appropriate to commemorate Michigan's role in the War of 1812.

More information can be found at www.michigan.gov/war1812.

The program includes:
"Origins of the War of 1812"
Hal Youmans
 Editor, War of 1812 Journal

"Mackinac in the War of 1812"
Phil Porter
 Director, Mackinac State Historic Parks

"Capitulation: In Defense of William Hull"
Anthony Yanik
 Author, Maxwell Motors and the Making of the Chrysler Corporation

"Henry Procter and the Western Theatre"
Sandy Antal
 Author, A Wampum Denied: Procter's War of 1812

"A Native American Perspective"
Meredith Henry
 Director, Gijigowi Bipskaabiimi Department, Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians

"River Raisin: Invaded on All Sides"
Ralph Naveaux
 Emeritus director of the Monroe County Historical Museum

"African Americans in the War of 1812"
Gene Smith
 Professor of history at Texas Christian University and curator of history at the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History

"Turning Point: The Battle of Lake Erie"
Arthur M. Woodford
 Author, This is Detroit, 1701-2001

"William Henry Harrison and the Campaign of 1813"
David Skaggs
 Retired history professor, Bowling Green State University, and War of 1812 author

Program Coordinator: Jim McConnell
 Session Moderators: Brian Dunnigan/James Spurr.

"After Tippecanoe" Symposium

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____ Zip _____
 E-mail _____ Phone _____ Cell _____

Please register no later than Thursday, October 20, 2011. Registration after Oct. 20 is $105 if space is available.

Registration: $95.00 per person _____ person(s) @ $95 = _____ Total _____
 Special Student Rate: $50/person _____ person(s) @ $50 = _____ Total _____
 (Students must show I.D. at registration) _____ Grand Total _____

Please make check payable to "Michigan War of 1812 Bicentennial Commission" and mail to:

Registration includes presentations on the War of 1812
 • program materials • continental breakfast • lunch and refreshment breaks

Annette W. McConnell
 Symposium Registrar
 17761 Bell Creek Lane
 Livonia, MI 48152

If registering for more than one person, please copy this form and include with your check. Thank you.